

VINCENZO SORRENTINO

Front End Developer

About me

I am a passionate person, always eager to learn new things and take on stimulating challenges. My open mind and desire to constantly grow push me to broaden my skills and adapt to new contexts.

My professional experience has allowed me to develop skills in different sectors, demonstrating my ability to work flexibly and adapt quickly to the changing needs of the world of work

I'm originally from Manfredonia and I'm 27 years old. My career path has gone through several phases, but recently I felt the desire to radically change my professional life to embark on a new path of personal and professional development.
